

Best time to cut Timber for Fencing.

Late autumn is the best time for felling timber for almost any purpose, and it is particularly so when the timber is to be worked into rails or stakes, or posts for fencing. At that season of the year the new wood has arrived at its complete maturity, and there is less sap albumen in timber than there is at any other season of the year, which albumen, when exposed to the influence of the weather, hastens the decay of timber. If timber be cut and split out in the latter part of Autumn, the seasoning process is much more gradual and perfect, because the grain of the timber contracts more equally and uniformly, rendering the timber firmer and less porous, and less cracked, than when cut at many other seasons of the year. Besides timber that is cut in late Autumn, and split out or sawed out before Spring, will "powder" post, nor be injured by dry rot, as is the case with timber, many times, which has been cut at some other seasons of the year. Fence posts and stakes particularly, no matter what the kind of timber may be, when felled and split out in late Autumn, will out last other posts and stakes, of the same kind of timber, which may be cut at a different season of the year, by several years, according to the time, it may be cut. Reason teaches us that this is so, and the experience of the most successful experimenters in timber, furnish the most indisputable testimony to substantiate the fact—Scientific American.

Winter Protection of Trees and Plants.

Fruit and ornamental trees planted this Fall, are benefited by a mound of earth a foot high, thrown up around the trunk. Let this earth be brought to the tree from another quarter, not taken off from the extremities of the roots, and so exposing them, as it is too often done. Such a mound will keep the trees steady against the wind and protect the trunks from the frosts of winter. Cautious as these precautions are, they do not know enough to ascend a bank of fresh earth in search of green foliage. For pear trees, subject as they are to frozen sap-blight, we would suggest the additional defence of a light board or section of bark set up against the south side of the trunk. A hay band wound loosely around a good purpose. Dwarf pears need special care in winter, if the ground continues bare. Their roots need a covering of manure or a mound of earth.

As to cherry trees, do the best you can, and even then, expect some injury and loss in the Northern States. For the splitting of the trunk so common, the protection recommended for the pear tree is worthy of trial. Grape vines not perfectly hardy should be laid on the ground and fastened there, and then covered with litter, or a few inches of soil. So of tender roses and shrubs; they may be banded up in straw or covered with matting or evergreen boughs, but they are generally safer if bent to the ground and covered with a little earth.—15.

Profits from Poultry.

At a late discussion by the Cambridge Farmer's Club, as reported in the New England Farmer, J. B. Farmer remarked as follows: "Last year he had twenty hens, and raised 1 hundred & fifty chickens; did not know how many eggs; his hens cost him half a cent per day. This year he had thirty hens; in January he had fifty dozen eggs; he got thirty cents per dozen. Bought one hundred and fifty pounds of beef, and kept it by them while it lasted; he ponded up the bones; the hens eat ponded bones greedily. He gives them warm dough once a day in cold weather. If we keep hens for the eggs only, he thinks the Poland, or Black Spanish, or Bolton Grays, are better than the large breeds. It is more profitable to raise chickens; his hens range over a two acre pasture; he keeps scraps by them. Hens should be treated gently; hens that are perfectly tame will lay twice as many eggs as wild ones. He thinks hen manure better than guano; last year he had enough to manure three acres of corn in hill.

See to it inserted in Cattle.

Good stables, good food, and good water, are the prime comforts for cattle in winter. For summer, whatever else they may have, how can they get along without a scratching pole? Rev. Sydney Smith, of England, was something of a farmer, and used to visit his cattle daily, and feed them and pet them until they knew his voice, and welcome his coming. He used to do all in his power to make them comfortable. He has been heard to say, "I am for all cheap luxuries, even for animals; now all animals have a passion for scratching their back bones; they break down your gates and palling to effect this. Look! this is my universal scratcher, a sharp-pointed pole, resting on a high and low post, adapted to every height from a horse to a lamb.

To Keep Butter Sweet a Year.—Take care that the butter is made in the best manner, and the buttermilk entirely worked out of it. Lay it in a white-oak firkin. Make a strong brine of salt and water, and put it into another and larger firkin, and set the one containing the butter into the one in which the brine is. Let the brine come up very near the top of the butter firkin. Lay on the top of the butter a white bag with fine salt in it, cover close, and then put on the cover of the outside firkin.

J. W. HARRIS & CO.
No. 13 Shoe & Leather Exchange.
Nov. 9, 1859.—50-5w. Boston, Mass.

Above we present you with a likeness of DR. MORSE—the inventor of MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS. This philanthropist has spent the greater part of his life in traveling, having visited Europe, Asia, and Africa, as well as North America—has spent three years among the Indians of our Western country—it was in this way that the Indian Root Pills were first discovered. Dr. Morse was the first man to establish the fact that all diseases arise from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD—that our strength, health and life depended upon this vital fluid. When the various passages become clogged, and do not act in perfect harmony with the different functions of the body, the blood loses its action, becomes thick, corrupted, and diseased; thus causing all pains, sickness and distress of every name; our strength is exhausted, our health we are deprived of, and if nature is not assisted in throwing off the stagnant humors, the blood will become choked and cease to act, and thus our light of life will forever be blown out. How important then, that we should keep the various passages of the body free and open. How pleasant to us that we have it in our power to put a medicine in your reach, namely, Morse's Indian Root Pills, manufactured from plants and roots which grow around the mountainous cliffs in Nature's Garden, the health and recovery of diseased man. One of the roots from which these Pills are made is a Suborific, which opens the pores of the skin, and assists Nature in throwing out the finer parts of the corruption within. The second is a plant which is an Expectant, that opens and unclogs the passage to the lungs, and thus, in a soothing manner, performs its duty in throwing off phlegm, and other humors from the lungs by copious spitting. The third is a Diuretic, which gives double ease and strength to the kidneys; thus encouraged, they draw large amounts of impurity from the blood, which is then thrown out bodily by the urinary or water passage, and which could not have been discharged in any other way. The fourth is a Cathartic, and accompanies the other properties of the Pills while engaged in purifying the blood; the coarser particles of impurity which cannot pass by the other outlets, are thus taken up and conveyed off in great quantities by the bowels.

From the above, it is shown that Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills not only clear the stomach, but become united with the blood, for they find way to every part, and completely root out and cleanse the system from all impurity, and the life of every body, which is the blood, becomes perfectly healthy; consequently all sickness and pain is driven from the system, for they cannot remain when the body becomes so pure and clear.

The reason why people are so distressed when sick, and why so many die, is because they do not get a medicine which will pass to the afflicted parts, and which will open the natural passage for the disease to be cast out; hence, a large quantity of food and other matter is lodged, and the stomach and intestines are literally overflowing with the corrupted mass; thus undergoing a disagreeable fermentation, constantly mixing with the blood, which the corrupted matter through every vein and artery, until life is taken from the body by disease. Dr. Morse's PILLS have added to themselves victory upon victory, by restoring millions of the sick to blooming health and happiness. Yes, thousands who have been racked and tortured with sickness, pain and anguish, and whose feeble frames have been scorched by the brain elements of raging fever, and who have been brought, as it were, within a step of the silent grave, now stand ready to testify that they would have been numbered with the dead, had it not been for this great and wonderful medicine, Morse's Indian Root Pills. After one or two doses had been taken, they were astonished, and absolutely surprised, in witnessing their charming effects. Not only do they give immediate ease and strength, and take away all sickness, pain and anguish, but they at once go to work at the foundation of the disease, which is the blood. Therefore, it will be shown, especially by those who use these Pills, that they will cleanse and purify, that disease—that deadly enemy—will take its flight, and the flush of youth and beauty will again return, and the prospect of a long and happy life will be theirs. Sold by all Dealers in Medicine generally throughout the country; B. Lake Judson, successor to A. J. White & Co., No. 50 Leonard st., N.Y.; Proprietors; William Mulder & Co., (Proprietors of Dr. A. Trask's Magnetic Ointment,) Earlville, Mass.; N.Y., General Agents.
